

FINALLY... a solution that will now allow the use of industrial steel sign post in high-rise parking lots where you can not penetrate the floor of the upper levels...

Flexpost has designed an adhesive mounting solution for their innovative flexible sign posts and bollard products to be used on the concrete floors of high-rise parking structures.

With this design, you can now mount their flexible sign post products on the floor of multi-level parking garages without penetrating the concrete floor!

This design has been tested and is currently in production.

Be one of the first to utilize this incredible product and solution!
